

James A. Arceneaux began his career with the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry in 1958 when he was hired as an inspector.

His first job with the Department of Agriculture was inspecting buildings, which had been treated by pest control operators, to ensure compliance with state laws, rules and regulations. Over the next thirty plus years Jimmy was promoted to investigator, investigator/supervisor, Assistant Director of Structural Pest Control Commission, Director of Structural Pest Control Commission, and finally, Assistant Director of Pesticide Waste and Director of Structural Pest Control Commission, responsible for the pesticide waste program and maintenance of all commission work. Jimmy is currently owner and President of Arceneaux Consulting and Pest Control Services Inc.

Throughout his career, Jimmy was involved with changing, adjusting and creating the laws, rules and regulations of the Louisiana Structural Pest Control Commission. Many of these standards were used in other states as their guidelines.

During his career, Jimmy was an active member and supporter of the Association of Structural Pest Control Regulatory Officials (ASPCRO) serving as Vice President in 1982 and 1983 and President in 1984 and 1985.

The positive impact Jimmy has had on the structural pest control industry, the regulatory community, and his contributions to ASPCRO, are greatly appreciated. James A. Arceneaux is hereby inducted into the ASPCRO Hall of Fame on this 30th day of August, 2005.
